Requirements of Binding Site Plan Record of Survey
Brochure #35

Washington State Law allows for an alternative way to subdivide land, other than the normal residential subdivision procedures, in a process called a Binding Site Plan. Binding Site Plans may be used to subdivide:

1. Industrial or commercial land;
2. Land for the purpose of lease when no residential structure other than mobile homes or travel trailers are permitted; and
3. Land for condominium purposes.

What is the review process for Binding Site Plans?

Binding site plans are reviewed administratively by the City Planning Department:

1. In connection with the final approval of a subdivision plat or planned unit development; or
2. In connection with the issuance of building permits or final certificates of occupancy; or
3. If not approved pursuant to 1 and 2 above, then pursuant to the project permit procedures set forth in MMC 17.13.

The Planning Director shall approve a binding site plan if he/she finds that:

1. Appropriate provisions are made for the public health, safety, and general welfare and for such open spaces, drainage ways, streets or roads, alleys, or public ways, transit stops, potable water supplies, sanitary wastes, parks and recreation, playgrounds, schools and school grounds, sidewalks, and other planning features that assure safe walking conditions for students who only walk to and from school; and
2. The public use and interest will be serviced by approval of such binding site plan.
